

Murphy's Law

Murphy's Law means anything that can go wrong, will. What if you showed up on the first day of school and everything went wrong? What if there were no numbers on the rooms and you couldn't figure out where you belonged? What if every time you tried to sit in a desk, it broke underneath of you? What if your teacher had such a thick accent you couldn't understand anything she said? Write about the worst possible first day of school. Use your imagination!
