

Name _____

Consonant Digraphs

The Big Test

DIRECTIONS: Read the story. Fill in the blanks with ch, sh or th.

It was the day of John's spelling test. John had studied very hard. The test should be easy, John ___ought to himself as he was putting on his ___oes. "Keep your ___in up!" his mother told him on his way out the door that morning.

When John got to class he put his books on the ___elf and sat down at his desk. His friend Larry sat beside him. "I ___ink I ___ould have studied," Larry said, nervously. "If you do not do well, you will wi___that you had," John agreed.

The bell rang and the tea___er stood up. "It is time for the spelling test," she said. She said ea___ word slowly. ___en she used ea___ word in a sentence. John spelled every word easily. But Larry was trying to ___eat. John kept his arm around his test. "Larry," ___eir tea___er said. "Please step out into the hall."

I bet Larry wi___es he had studied now! John ___ought to himself.