Are you ready for some football?

Directions: Read each sentence and find the definition of the underlined word. Write the number of the sentence next to the correct definition.

1. Football events are extremely popular in North America.
2. Many fans express unconditional loyalty to their favorite team.
3. Usually, there are several people that announce the plays during the game.
4. The quarterback tries to avoid being tackled.
5. When the kicker scores a field goal, the team earns 1 bonus point.
6. Many fans enjoy the suspense of a close game.
7. If the players become violent, a penalty is given to the team.
8. The fans and the team dread penalties in fear of losing the game.
9. At the end of the Super Bowl game, one team is declared the winner of all football teams for that year.
10. Thus after winning, there is a huge celebration on the field.

As a result
Anticipate with fear
To hurt with physical force
Something that happens
Show allegiance to

Keep away from doing something
Extra
State something in an official or public way
Publicly say something
Feeling excited or anxious