

Name _____ Date _____

Mothers and fathers tell their children bedtime stories and fairy tales about princes and princesses, castles and make believe kingdoms with strange and funny new animals and people.

On the lines below, write your own bedtime story. Describe the people and animals in your story and what they might say or do. Tell about the adventures they have and the things that happen to them.

