Football Season Has Begun!

Directions: Most people that watch football have traditions for game day. Below are a few traditions people follow to prepare for or when watching football. Write a concluding sentence for each topic sentence.

In the summer, grilling out before a game, also known as tailgating, is the best way to prepare for a great game of football.

__________________________________________________________________________

Wearing your team’s colors will help them win the game.

__________________________________________________________________________

Playing a game of football with your friends will get you even more excited for watching the professional game.

__________________________________________________________________________