The Ball is in Your Court...

Your friends have been arguing about whether you should stop at the park and play basketball with the other kids or if you should go straight home and play video games. Finally when they can't find a solution they ask you what you think. Which do you think you should do, go straight home to play video games or stay to play basketball? Or maybe you have another idea of what you think the three of you should do. Write an explanation of which after school activity you think you and your friends should do. Make sure you use facts and details to back up your opinion and convince your friends
