

Tools of the Cartoon Trade: Interjections

An interjection is a word or group of words used to express strong feelings or surprise. You are probably most familiar with interjections from reading comic strips or comic books, where they are sometimes also used in addition to illustrations to convey action.

Directions: Study the comic strip below. Insert the sentences where you think they belong. Add appropriate punctuation.

1. Bam
2. Gosh my big test is tomorrow I don't feel prepared
3. Kapow
4. Take that
5. Yikes Interjections are a lot easier than prepositions and dangling participles
6. I mean I wish that keeping up with my secret identify was as easy as fighting crime
