Weightless!

DIRECTIONS: The commas below have floated out of their sentences. Put them back where they belong. Every time you use a comma, color its bubble.

1. When you are in space you have no weight.
2. Because you have no weight you just float around.
3. In order to keep from floating off away astronauts on space walks are tethered to their ships.
4. If anything floats off into space they say it will continue floating forever.
5. If I were an astronaut I would make doggone sure that didn't happen to me.
6. Still it would be fun to be weightless for a while.
7. If I was weightless right now I would float up above the trees and look down on my neighborhood.
8. Even better my dog could be weightless too.
9. In that case I would take him for a sky walk!
10. How wonderful that something as exciting as weightlessness really exists somewhere in real life!
