

Name _____ Conjunctive Adverbs

Watch me turn these two sentences into one sentence!

Punctuating Sentences that Contain Conjunctive Adverbs

Conjunctive adverbs put two sentences together and make a new sentence. The original first sentence ends with a semi-colon, and the conjunctive adverb comes before the original second sentence.

DIRECTIONS: Add the correct punctuation to each sentence.

1. Every new employee has to work their way up through the ranks otherwise they don't get promoted.
2. We are taking the train into the city consequently we won't have to worry about parking the car.
3. We didn't have much money nonetheless we were able to get good seats for the concert.
4. Mark didn't feel like a move instead we went bowling.
5. I love to hike for example last weekend I hiked in the Shenandoah Mountains.
6. We need to get there early so we can get a parking space incidentally I know a short cut.
7. John collects toys furthermore whenever he gets the opportunity he looks for collectible toys at flea markets.
8. I don't think that we are going to be good friends moreover I think we are too different to be friends at all.
9. We met a lot of famous people that day in fact I shook hands with President Obama.
10. I don't really care for cheese on the other hand from time to time I will eat a good lasagna.
11. I practiced a lot still I didn't make the team.
12. We promised to write in addition we sometimes communicated via FaceTime and Skype.