Put An End To It!

A concluding statement reminds readers of the topic. It sums up the information in the paragraph. Read the paragraph below about weasels.

The scariest animal on earth is the weasel. Weasels are predatory carnivores who will eat any kind of meat they can get ahold of. Because they have long, slender bodies they are able to follow their prey right down into their burrows, which makes it hard for rabbits, mice and other small rodents to escape them. They are both ferocious and bloodthirsty; so much so, in fact, that it’s a good thing they are small animals. If they were the same size as lions and tigers, the human race would be in big trouble.

1. What is the argument of this paragraph?

2. Now write an appropriate concluding statement for the paragraph.

_________________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________________
_________________________________________________________________________