

What Do You Read?

Science has shown that people who read fiction tend to be more empathetic towards others, and research suggests that literary fiction has this effect more than any other genre because of its tendency towards complex and sometimes ambiguous characters.

1. What kind of fiction is your favorite (what genre do you prefer)?

2. List three reasons why you think this kind of fiction is the best.

A. _____

B. _____

C. _____

3. Cite three references that back up any one of your claims in #2:
