

Name _____

Don't Know a Word?

Directions: Read the sentences below. Look up the underlined words in a dictionary. Then rewrite each sentence in your own words to show that you understand what it means. If needed, use a dictionary to help you.

1. Though he had committed an abject crime, he still hoped to be let out of prison on parole within the next few months.

2. Julia had always gotten along well with her parents, but when they found out about her abnegation, the troubles began.

3. After John stole money from the foundation's petty cash box, the foundation abrogated his membership and all of his privileges.