

Bringing a Setting to Life

Appealing to a reader's five sense can really bring a setting to life.

DIRECTIONS: Think of a familiar place. It can be a place that you love, a place that makes your frightened or uncomfortable, or a place you used to live when you were younger, or a happy memory. List details about the place that relate to each of the senses listed below.

HEARING

Empty box for writing details related to HEARING.

TASTE

Empty box for writing details related to TASTE.

SIGHT

Empty box for writing details related to SIGHT.

TOUCH

Empty box for writing details related to TOUCH.

SMELL

Empty box for writing details related to SMELL.

