Name _____ Writing about Similarities

DIRECTIONS: When adapting a book for a feature film, directors need to make a lot of decisions. Some aspects of writing adapt well to the screen, while others can be more challenging, and often require the director to reimagine the story, and how to tell it. You have both read the book and seen the film version of a particular story. How were they alike? Write a short essay that describes their similarities.

Mediums for Storytelling: Books and Film