The Play

It's that time of year again. The kindergarten students are putting on a play. Next year's kindergarten students will be there to learn about school. Mrs. Anderson's class will be the first to present their part of the play. They will tell the Pre-K students about the morning routine. Jamie was chosen to tell the routine while her classmates acted it out. Next, Miss White's class showed the Pre-K students how to work at different centers. Matthew gave the instructions on how to move from center to center. Jennifer from Ms. Person's class told the Pre-K students about all the activities that they would be doing next year. Finally, Mrs. Watts' class told the school and classroom rules that they will be expected to follow. All of the Pre-K students loved the play. The kindergarten students did a really good job and now they were ready for 1st grade.
