

Where's the Subordinate?

A complex sentence is composed of one main, independent clause and one or more subordinate, or dependent clauses.

INDEPENDENT CLAUSES: John reads books. Ian drives a bus.

A subordinate clause (dependent clause) does not express a complete thought, and must be attached to a main clause.

SUBORDINATE CLAUSES (underlined): I had that dog when I was in elementary school.
Although hurried, I missed the bus.

Underline the subordinate clause in each complex sentence.
