

Big Sounds!

Bash, boom, bang! Making music means you might make many noises. Music is its own language, filled with many sounds. Alliteration also helps creates noises and sounds in the English language.

What will happen when we mix music and alliteration together?

- I. Using alliteration, write a musical or noise word to describe the instrument below.

Example: The pitchy piccolo

1. The _____ bassoon
2. The _____ harp
3. The _____ clarinet
4. The _____ oboe
5. The _____ drum
6. The _____ trombone
7. The _____ French horn
8. The _____ guitar
9. The _____ saxophone
10. The _____ violin

- II. Using descriptions you created above, write a sentence giving the instrument action.

Example: The pitchy piccolo pipes up from the orchestra pit.

11. The _____ bassoon _____.
12. The _____ harp _____.
13. The _____ clarinet _____.
14. The _____ oboe _____.
15. The _____ drum _____.
16. The _____ trombone _____.
17. The _____ French horn _____.
18. The _____ guitar _____.
19. The _____ saxophone _____.
20. The _____ violin _____.