

Name _____ Commas

Commas with Appositives

An appositive is a phrase that provides clarifying information about a noun. A pair of commas separate the appositive from the rest of the sentence. The appositive can be removed, and the sentence still makes sense.

DIRECTIONS: Add commas to set off the appositive in each sentence.

1. My dog the one that got killed on the highway is buried in my back yard.
2. My brother's favorite cake coconut is on sale this week.
3. My computer the most important tool I own broke down yesterday.
4. That man whom I met last week was at the circus too.
5. The book that he was reading Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone is very popular.
6. The crowd which at one point had gotten rowdy was starting to disperse.
7. My daughter who has blond curly hair does not resemble me.
8. The mornings which are starting to get cool are my favorite time of day.
9. At dinner time six 'o'clock we all talk about our day.
10. The man the one who is staying with us misses his family terribly.

