Reading Response

Cause and Effect

When examining cause and effect, it is important to understand that the cause is an initial situation that occurs. This situation then has a consequence or result on something else.

Example: Lisa stayed up all night studying for her test. The next morning, she overslept and missed the bus

Cause: Lisa stayed up too late.

Effect: She overslept and missed her bus.

As you read through your text, pay close attention to cause and effect situations.
