

Complete Predicate and Subject

Name _____ Date _____

Read each sentence below. For each sentence underline the complete predicate and circle the complete subject. Draw a line to separate the clauses. Finally, label each sentence as simple, compound, complex, or compound complex in the blank.

Simple: A sentence that only has one clause

Compound: A sentence with two or more clauses joined by a coordinating conjunction (for, and, nor, but, or, yet, so)

Complex: A sentence with two or more clauses joined with a subordinating conjunction (as, because, although, since, before, when, once, if, whenever, whatever, during, until, unless, wherever, whether, while, that)

Compound-Complex: three or more clauses joined by coordinating or subordinating conjunctions.

1. I will be happy when I get home, but sad the vacation has ended. _____

2. I will clean my room as soon as I get home from school so I can go to the sleepover this weekend. _____

3. I look forward to summer vacation. _____

4. I was in Ms. Johnson's class before Ms. Mills taught here. _____

5. I enjoyed swimming this weekend. _____

6. Sammy asked if we were riding the bus to her house or being dropped off later.

7. I really like English, although Science class has great experiments.

8. I hope to win the spelling bee today.

