1. Luckily Chuck brought some rope with him, so he throws it down to Davy and pulls him out. Once Davy is out, he and Chuck decide to turn back and go home.
2. When the day comes, Davy's mom is hesitant to let them go, saying it might be too dangerous since it snowed the night before. The boys set out anyway because they had been excited about this adventure all week.
3. Upon reaching Davy's house, they tell his mother what happens and although she wants to tell them, "I told you so!" instead she sits them down next to the fireplace with warm blankets and some hot cocoa.
4. Part way up the mountain, the boys struggle with how soft the newly fallen snow is. Then, all of a sudden, Davy takes a misstep and "WHOOSH!" the snow gives under him and he winds up in a pit.
5. Davy and Chuck make plans to go mountain climbing on the weekend.
