

Setting the Stage

Exposition: In the beginning of every story, the writer sets the stage for where the characters live and gives some description of the characters' lives and personalities. This stage is built around the main character. If you had to create a world around a main character, what kind of place and people do you imagine them to live in and with?

Directions: Create a setting around the character below by answering the questions provided.

Character Name: Timothy
Traits: Brown Hair and Brown Eyes

Imagine what kind of person Timothy is and describe him:
